The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, August 15. 1722.

London, August 15.
Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland, and another from Flanders.

Florence, July 28.

THE Grand Prior Ilderis, Minister from the Emperour, is arrived here from Genoa, and has taken up his Lodging at the Convent of the Annunciada, where he receives Visits from the Grand Duke's Ministers and Foreigners. He has returned his Visits of Ceremony to the Ministers of France and Spain, and as soon as his Equipage arrives from Leghorn he is to make his Appearance in Publick. Advices from Rome say the Pope takes great Pains to prevent the Troubles which Italy seems threatned with, and that Cardinal Conti confers often to that Purpose with the French and Spanish Cardinals. It is reported, that Cardinal Alberoni has received a Letter from the Marquess de Grimaldo, and has caused Copies of it to be distributed to the Sacred College. Ships are building at Leghorn for the Service of some foreign Princes. General Wallis arrived here a few Days past from Germany, and having visited the Imperial Minister, he set out from hence in Order to repair to his Government of Messina.

Rome, Aug. 1. The Pope has granted the Indulto of the Croisado for Sicily to the Emperour; his Imperial Majesty likewise solicites the like for all the Dominions he possesses in Italy. The Abbé de Tanfin, Minister of France, received by an extraordinary Courier the 30th past from Paris, a Letter from the King his Master, with the Pope's Briefs that have been printed at Paris, upon which the Abbé had an Audience Yesterday of his Holiness: The particular Marks of Distinction which this Minister receives at the Pope's Court, give Jealousy to others who can scarcely obtain the like Favours. The Fright which the Turks Fleet had occasioned here, is now quite over: The last News concerning them say they are sailed for the Coast of Tunis, and that the Fleet was much less than had been reported, consisting only of five Sultanas besides a few small Vessels. The following is a Translation of a Letter their Admiral sent to Malta, demanding the delivery of the Turkish Slaves, viz.

THIS is to signify to the Governour and Chiefs of the Isle of Malta, to the Heads of the Senate, and to all the Chiefs and Knights of the Nations of the Messiah, French, Germans, Venetians, and others in that Island, that we are expressly sent by the Sultan, Lord of the Universe, and Refuge of the World, to demand that all the Slaves, belonging to the Knights of St. John at Malta, as well as others, to the Number of 6000, who are held under their wicked Government, be delivered and restored, in order to present themselves before his illustrious and sublime Throne: This being his Will and Command, he has therefore armed out his Fleets, and expressly required us to notify to you our Arrival by this Letter, and to cause you to deliver up the Slaves, which in case you make any Difficulty in performing, you shall smart for it hereafter, and have Cause to repent. You may send to Tunis your Answer to this Letter.

Vienna, Aug. 5. Their Imperial Majesties, accompanied by the Archdutchesses Leopoldines, and a few Attendants, set out the 3d Instant at Six in the Morning on their Journey for Maria-Zell in Stiria. They dined the same Day at a Country-Seat of Count Par's at Burkerstoff, and lay at Night in the Convent of Lilienfeld, in Order to reach Maria-Zell Yesterday, from whence their Imperial Majesties are expected back at the Favorita the 7th Instant, being to dine that Day with Count Gundacre d'Althan at Murstelten. Yesterday Morning Prince Don Emanuel of Portugal, attended by some Gentlemen of his Retinue, set out for Blackenstein, a Seat belonging to Baron Tinti, in order to perform his Devotions at Maria-Zell. Publick Business being adjourned for some Days, most of the Ministers have taken the Opportunity to go into the Country; and Prince Eugene of Savoy is gone to Gollerstoff, a Place belonging to the Vice-Chancellour of the Empire.

Berlin, Aug. 11. On the 9th Instant, at Five in the Afternoon, the Queen of Prussia was happily brought to Bed of a Prince; upon which all the Bells were rung, and three Salvoes were fired from the Artillery on the Ramparts. An Express was immediately dispatched to Potsdam, to acquaint his Majesty with this agreeable News which has occasioned here the utmost Joy. An Officer of the Court was likewise dispatched instantly to notify this News to the Foreign Ministers, and the same Night at Eleven a Clock the King came back from Potsdam. The next Day, the Count de Hompesch, Minister from the States General, had the Honour to congratulate his Majesty on this Occasion. The new Prince was Christned this Afternoon, and named William-Augustus: Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the Bishop of Osnaburg, were Godfathers and Godmother. The Margrave Albert of Brandenburg, and his Spouse stood for their Royal Highnesses. The Queen and the young Prince are in good Health: His Majesty sets out To-morrow for Potsdam.

Paris, Aug. 19. The Nomination of the Duke of Charost to be the King's Governour is generally approved, he being in great Reputation for Ability, Honour, and Probity. He was formerly named for it by the late Duke of Burgundy this King's Father, and was now chosen by his Majesty out of the List of those presented to him by the Duke Regent. On Sunday last the King accompanied by the Duke of Bourbon, the Count of Clermont, the Duke of Charost his Governour, and the Duke de Villeroy Captain of the Life Guards in waiting, went from Versailles to St. Cloud, to Compliment Madamoiselle de Beaujolois on her Marriage. Letters from Rome of the 25th past advise, that a Draught had been ordered of ten Men out of every Company of the Pope's regular Forces, to strengthen the Garrison of Civita Vecchia, and also to help to arm the Gallies there: Veletri was made a Place of Arms, and the Towers and Redoubts all along that Coast, had their Garrisons reinforced by Militia of the Country. M. de Rothe in his Letter of the 3d from Languedoc confirms, that all the Country within the Lines is in a good State of Health. M. le Bret in his of the 1st advises, that from the 27th of July to the 31st, but one had died and three fallen sick at Marseilles; no more than 37 remained sick there. M. Dorsai writes the 2d, that at the Tolling of all the Bells strict Quaran-tain was begun the 16th of July at Avignon; a third Part of the Inhabitants had left the Town; all Persons were forbidden on Pain of Death to appear at their Doors, except the Commissaries and the Purveyors; notwithstanding which some Persons who had broken that Order had been punished only by Whipping. Eighty Commissaries were appointed for the several Quarters of the Town, and each of them has under him three Purveyors to furnish all Necessaries. The Churches were open at Sarrians. The Prohibition of Communication with Caumont was taken off. Orange and its Territory continued in a good State of Health: The Infirmaries were shut up: The Surgeons, Servants of the Infirmaries, and Buriers of the dead, were to be put under Quarantain as soon as the Perfuming and Airing of Goods was over.

Cambray, Aug. 18. The 12th Instant being the Anniversary of His Britannick Majesty's Accession to the Crown, his Excellency the Lord Polwarth gave a very magnificent Entertainment to all the Foreign Ministers residing here. The Count and Countess of Windischgratz are returned hither from Paris.
